

New Spanish Radio Novela Addresses Health Issues

A new Spanish-language radio drama from Media for Health will address health issues while telling a story. These episodes of real-life drama will portray characters struggling with diabetes, obesity, high blood pressure, smoking and more. Health experts will join the hosts during each broadcast to talk about the health issues in the episodes and to answer listener questions.

The drama will air on Alabama's La Jefa AM 620/1450/1500 on Saturdays at 10 a.m. during "Listen to Who's Talking," a talk show hosted by Ernesto Usma and teen intern Vianey Mendez. The following Monday, the program will be posted on the Web.
